College Placement Skills Training (CPST)

The Peterson's College Place Skills Training package is a comprehensive online course to aid in improving results on college-placement exams, like Accuplacer, ASSET and COMPASS and college-level courses. The CPST is designed to help students improve their essential math, English and writing skills needed to perform well on college placement exams and take college level course work. Here's how it works:

- The online training begins with a diagnostic assessment of the students' academic skills.
- Based on the results, the student is assigned a customized set of lessons.
- Interactive games and activities help students build Math, English, Reading and Writing skills.
- Three full-length practice tests simulate college placement exams to allow students to apply what they've learned and gauge their progress.
- Self-scoring helps students evaluate their practice essays.
